Daily Lectionary Readings    Psalm 80
Isaiah 32:9-20
James 3:17-18

Today's Scripture Verse:    But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peace able, gentle, willing to yield, full of mercy and good fruits, without a trace of partiality or hypocrisy. (James 3:17)

What it means:                So much of what passes for news these days is nothing but opinion, and much of it is self-serving. Much of it also looks down upon those whose opinions differ. This bit of wisdom from James is a helpful corrective for us. It reminds us of the humility that is an essential part of authentic and wise conversation.

Our time of reflection:      God grant us the courage to explore our world for the truth, the honesty to consider views that differ from our own, and the humility to realize that what we believe is always biased by who we are.
